

PREMIERS AGAIN OPEN DISCUSSION OF RUSSIAN TRADE

SAN REMO CONFERENCE WILL PERMIT RUSSIANS TO DIS-CUSS TRADE WITH ALLIES

OFFER MANDATE TO U. S.

America is Offered Armenian Mandate But Probably It Will Be Rejected—Premiers in Almost Complete Accord

By United Press Leased Wire
San Remo—The council of premiers has decided to take up the matter of trading with Russia again.
It was learned semi-officially today
and will allow entrance of a Russian mission into allied countries to discuss the matter.

Great Britain, it was said, has consented to the plan, although she objects to Maxim Litvinoff, soviet embassy at Copenhagen, on the ground that Litvinoff was guilty of a "breach of diplomatic etiquette," in his recent conversations with J. O'Grady, the British representative.

Await Nitti Decision
Premier Nitti today was to give his decision on the proposed Adriatic settlement. After Nitti submitted his plan yesterday, including making Flume a buffer state, based on the proposals of President Wilson in his note of December 8, France and Great Britain pointed out they had not ratified this plan and declared Nitti must choose between Wilson's original compromise and the pact of London, which would give Flume to Jugoslavia.

While the council decided to award
the mandates over Mesopotamia to Great Britain and Syria to France, it was learned semi-officially that in principle final decisions on these questions have been postponed because of the necessity in defining Italy's spheres of influence in southern Anatolia.

Following out his peace policy, Premier Nitti has asked only economic concessions leaving sovereignty to Turkey.

Premiers in Accord
The conference, which started a week ago with threatened serious dis-union over the question of a unified allied attitude toward Germany, will end probably tomorrow night with apparently complete accord.

While not all the questions have been settled, the outstanding differences have been eradicated and the ground prepared for important work when the premiers resume their work in Paris next month.

The council today decided to render the mandate over Armenia to the United States. In event that nation refuses, the council will ask Wilson to determine the boundaries of the new nation by deciding whether the Armenian district shall go to Armenia or remain Turkish.

The mandate over Palestine went to Great Britain, who with France will settle the borders of Syria and Palestine, especially as to whether the upper Jordan river shall be included in Syria's borders.

To Reject Mandate
Washington—Reports that the allied supreme council has decided to offer the Armenian mandate to the United States and ask President Wilson to fix the boundaries of that newly recognized nation, were received with surprise in government circles here today.

Officials thought it had been made clear to the allies by hints and otherwise that there was no chance of this country taking the mandate over Armenia.

Chance For Wilson
Nevertheless there was some speculation as to whether President Wilson would take this opportunity to reverse his recent decision to abstain from participation in international politics, at least until after the league of nations covenant has been finally accepted or rejected by the United States. It was conceded that the allied premier would give him a good chance to do this, should he have changed his mind.

Officials believed the request that the United States accept the Armenian mandate would be politely declined.

Some diplomats viewed the supreme council's offer as a move to prevent Wilson from interfering when the allies arrange Armenia's boundaries to suit themselves. After this country has refused the mandate and refused to accept the task of fixing Armenia's boundaries, the president could hardly object to whatever the premiers may do in drawing these frontiers, they said. These diplomats thought the allies fully expected the United States to decline the mandate and that the whole affair was merely

GOMPERS AND ALLEN MAY MEET IN DEBATE

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Governor Allen, of Kansas, said today he is willing to meet Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a debate on the merits of the new court of industrial relations in Kansas.

According to reports received here,
Gompers has declared his readiness to meet Allen and has suggested this city as the meeting place, some time next month.

Carranza Men Flee Before Rebel Troops

Federals Are Retreating Ahead of Rebel Army and Clash Is Expected—International Footbridge Destroyed
By Fire.

(By Harold D. Jacobs)
By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, Mex.—Mexican federal forces have retreated to a point 46 miles north of Mazatlan before the rebel troops of General Flores dispatches to the government said today.
A struggle between the federals
and revolutionists for control of Mazatlan, the principal port of entry of Sinaloa and regarded as the chief industrial and commercial city of the west coast of Mexico, is imminent, according to these reports.

There are known to be about 45
Americans, men, women and children, in Mazatlan and in environs. The presence there of United States war vessels was particularly necessary because of the probability that the water supply of the city will be cut off by the rebels. The Americans could then take refuge on the warships.

The federal troops have burned railroad bridges behind them in withdrawing toward Mazatlan and fortifications are being erected outside the city in preparation for a clash.

Official information here is that supporters of General Obregon, candidate for the Mexican presidency were being arrested in Mexico City and also throughout the republic.

Defeat by the federals of General
Porfirio Gonzalez, who recently rebelled at Linares, Nuevo Leon, was reported. A detachment of federals has been sent to Michoacan to quell uprisings.

Heads Rebel Army

Nogales, Arizona—Governor De la Huerta, of Sonora, Mexico, today accepted the position offered him as supreme head of the constitutional army, as outlined in the "plan of Agua Prieta," it was reported from revolutionary headquarters.

Mexican Consul-General De Nerri
at New York, after vainly pleading with President Carranza to retract his attitude regarding the Sonora movement, wired revolutionary leaders here offering them his services. It was

RAIL COMBINATION DENOUNCED BY COURT

GOVERNMENT WINS ANTHRA-CITE COAL CASE BEFORE
SUPREME COURT—DIS-
SOLUTION ORDERED

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—The government today finally won one of the famous anthracite coal cases when the supreme court decided that the Reading Railroad must give up holdings in various coal companies and in other roads.

The coal combination of the railroads and mining concerns was held to be a violation of the anti-trust law.

The court declared the whole combination must be dissolved.
The decision was a complete victory for the government, the court emphatically denouncing the combination of the railroads and the coal companies and declaring that the great power obtained had been used to restrain commerce.

Red River Case

Washington.—The supreme court today ordered the United States and the state of Oklahoma to show cause
on or before May 2 why the petitions
of Texas citizens for a modification of the court's recent order placing all the disputed Red River territory under federal injunction and receiver should not be granted.

OUTLAW LABOR UNIONS DENOUNCED BY GOMPERS

By United Press Leased Wire

Cleveland.—Samuel Gompers,
president of the American Federation of Labor, denounced the Lever act, the railroad strike and the various independent labor parties and reaffirmed the federation's non-partisan stand in politics, in an address
here yesterday.

Gompers called upon organized labor to defeat all candidates for office who are known antagonistic to the "best interests of the workers," regardless of party affiliations. Herbert Hoover was the only one of the presidential candidates mentioned.

While Gompers attacked bitterly
the yardmen's strike, he said he approved of "lawful strikes" and that they were necessary in some instances.

The Cummins-Esch railway bill was attacked for its anti-strike and dividend guarantee clauses.

Seven messenger boys here use au-

time and a half for overtime. James Demsey, one of the automobile messenger boys, said the seven boys

saved from their wages.

G. O. P. SEEKING MAN FAVORABLE TO ALL FACTIONS

SENATOR KNOX IS SUGGESTED
AS COMPROMISE CANDI-DATE FOR PRESIDENCY
IF ONE IS NEEDED

TOMORROW IS THE BIG DAY

More Than 125 Delegates Will Be Elected to Democratic and Republican Conventions
Before Tomorrow
Evening

(By L. C. Martin)
By United Press Leased Wire

Washington.—The situation developed by the hot fight for the republican presidential nomination today caused G. O. P. leaders in the inner circle of the party councils to begin casting about for a compromise candidate, should one be required.

They are considering Senator Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, former attorney general and also formerly secretary of state. His name is being heard with increasing frequency among influential republican politicians in Washington.

Knox is favored for these reasons:
1—His experience in government, both legislative and administrative branches.

2—His standing in both wings of the republican party.

He is a close personal friend of Borah-Johnson irreconcilables in the treaty fight. He is at the same time close to Penrose, Smoot, Lodge
and other old guard leaders.

3—His reputation before the country as a conservative whose record in the senate, his friends say, show him to have favored really progressive governmental measures.

Tomorrow Is Big Day

(By Harold Jacobs)

New York.—Tomorrow will be the most important single day in the pre-convention campaign to date.

There will be three republican and three democratic primaries and two republican state conventions at which 133 republican and 112 democratic delegates will be selected as follows:

New Jersey primaries, 28 republicans and 28 democratic delegates;
Ohio primaries, 48 delegates each;
Massachusetts primaries, 35 republican and 36 democratic delegates; Washington primaries, 14 republicans; Idaho convention, 12 republicans.

The day will be featured by Senator Johnson's "last ditch" fight to carry New Jersey and with a foothold
in the east, and by Major General Leonard Wood's simultaneous invasion of two "favorite son" states.

Wood has disregarded one of the unwritten laws of political politics
by carrying his fight into "favorite son" territory in Ohio and Massachusetts, as he did in Illinois. In Ohio he will be opposed to Senator Warren G. Harding. Their names are the only ones on the republican ballots.

Battles Favorite Sons

An entire slate has been put up in Massachusetts by the Wood organization. The rival candidates are unistructured but are known to favor Governor Calvin Coolidge, with one exception. This is a candidate for delegate-at-large who is understood to be for Hoover.

Wood is also working for endorsement of the Idaho and Washington conventions. In Idaho he is opposed by Senator William Borah, who is stumping the country for Johnson.
Senator Miles Poindexter is the "favorite son" of Washington, but he will have competition in the state convention from Wood, Johnson and Hoover.

Governor James Cox is the only candidate on the democratic ballot in Ohio; Governor Edward L. Edwards is supposed to have everything his name in New Jersey, while William G.
McAdoo is supposed to have the support of the Massachusetts democrats.

Hitchcock Helping Out

Chicago.—Frank H. Hitchcock, expert manager of presidential campaigns, today was "helping out" Major General Leonard Wood's campaign, according to Colonel W. C.
Proctor, national manager of the Wood campaign.

Proctor conferred here yesterday
with Wood and later denied reports that he was to be replaced by Hitchcock.

"So far as I know, I am to remain
in charge of General Wood's campaign," Proctor said.

"Hitchcock is helping out. He is not to have charge of any territory that I know of."

Verdict Up To Voters

Trenton, N. J.—Major General
Leonard Wood and Senator Hiram Johnson have rested their cases and the verdict is in the hands of the jury of New Jersey republican voters. The decision as to which of these two candidates for the presidential nomination shall receive the state's endorsement will be handed down at tomorrow's primaries.

Wood has a complete slate of delegates in the 12 congressional districts
while Johnson has candidates in nine.
In the democratic primary, Governor Edwards is regarded as certain to receive the state's endorsement.

SEVEN MEMBERS OF FAMILY ARE SLAIN

ONLY ONE OF FAMILY OF EIGHT SURVIVES AFTER MURDEROUS ATTACK—SEEK SLAYERS

By United Press Leased Wire

Turtle Lake, N. D.—Autopsies were to be performed today on the bodies of seven found killed at the farmhouse of Jacob Wolf, wealthy farmer, last Saturday afternoon.

Robbery was believed the motive.
Wolf was known to have kept large sums of money in his home, authorities said.

Six members of the Wolf family were killed either by a shotgun used at close range, or with a small hatchet. A hired man also was murdered.

The only surviving member of the Wolf family is an eight-months-old baby—cooling in its crib at a neighbor's house today.

A severe cold from exposure by an open window, and a knife on its side were the only effects upon the infant.

Coroner Strucke and deputies today were attempting to trace the sale of a shotgun, the stock of which was found in a pond near the Wolf farm.

Footprints along the shore of the pond were also carefully recorded.

Posses were searching for the mur-derer or murderers throughout the district today.

The body of Mrs. Wolf, three of her daughters and a hired boy had been thrown into the cellar. The body of the father and a daughter were covered with hay in a cow shed.

GERMANY'S PLEA FOR BIGGER ARMY REJECTED

By United Press Leased Wire

Paris.—A joint French, British, Italian, Belgian statement, to be ratified here this afternoon, rejects Germany's request that she be allowed to retain an army of 200,000 instead of the 100,000 provided by the treaty of Versailles.

The statement says it is necessary to fix the amount of reparations to be paid by Germany later and that Germany must carry out the peace treaty, otherwise the allies will be forced to use coercive measures.

Pertinax writing in the Echo de Paris, says the allied financiers plan
thirty yearly payments of three billion marks gold as a minimum, to be increased according to the state of Germany's economic restoration.

Vieh testified at the trial today that he had $728 sewed in with tape in the leg of the trousers.

The sailors, Frank Taylor and John

members of a band of seven masked men who broke into Vieh's boarding house and after robbing all the other

Wood Expects Slice Of Ohio Delegation

G. O. P. Primary Tomorrow Expected to Result in Giving 38 Delegates to Harding and Ten to Wood—Contest Is Hard Fought

(By James T. Colbert)
By United Press Leased Wire

Cleveland—Opinion prevailed
here today that Ohio will give its "favorite son," Senator Warren G.
Harding, 38 of its 48 delegates to the republican national convention, while General Leonard Wood will take the balance.

Both candidates for the republican presidential nomination left the Ohio field to their benchmen Sunday and invaded Indiana.

The Ohio primaries will be held tomorrow and the respective campaign managers are carrying on the fight to the last minute.

Senator Hiram Johnson, California, and Herbert Hoover are expected to receive a substantial "written in"
vote.

The voters will have two ballots.
On one they will register their presidential preference and on the other they will vote for presidential delegates pledged to either Wood or Harding.

The first ballot is not binding in any way and merely registers the opinion of the voters. Despite this fact scattered delegates announced
they would swing their votes in line with the expression of the voters.

Wood supporters were confident they would secure at least ten of the delegates. While this proportion to the whole is small, it was contended that even a few chips hacked
from the "favorite son's" support would be a big moral victory for the general.

Johnson men are saying little but working hard. In the Cleveland sector Johnson supporters are believing Harding's candidacy with the expectation of breaking away from him on the second ballot at the convention.

Governor Cox will secure the entire 48 democratic delegates as he has no opposition in Ohio and the election of his delegates is held a mere formality.

BANDIT VILLA MAY TAKE HAND IN REVOLT

MEXICANS IN WASHINGTON BE-

MEN DESERT

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—Appearance of Francisco Villa, rebel leader in the Mexican revolutionary activities of followers of General Obregon, was forecast here today by representatives of the revolutionary movement in Washington.

Assurances have already been received, according to General Alvarado, representing the revolution, that here, that Villa has joined the revolt.

Advices to Alvarado here said fighting between revolting federal troops and supporters of Carranza has broken out in the Ajusco mountains near Mexico City and that several detachments from General Cosio Robelo's brigade of federals in the neighboring state of Morelos have passed over to the rebels and attacked a Carranza force under General Gustavo Elizondo near Cuernavaca. The Sonora government has named commercial agents at San Francisco and the border ports of Nogales, Douglas and Naco to act in a consular capacity and to facilitate import and export shipments, according to Alvarado.

A commercial agent at New York will be designated this week, it was said.

Charters Are Revoked

New York.—Charters for nine local unions of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, approximately 2,000 men, were revoked because members joined in the "outlaw" strike, Edward H.

In a last effort to induce the railroad labor board to take a hand in the strike, a delegation of five strikers was enroute to Washington today.
They will appear before the board to appeal for the restoration of their jobs without loss of seniority rights.

Railroad officials reported service showing a steady improvement in the New York district.

Despite a statement by McHugh that Lackawanna engineers would strike today, company officials said
none of the men were out.

OSHKOSH WOMAN IS ARRESTED HERE ON LARCENY CHARGE

THREE APPLETON STORES ARE VICTIMIZED BY ALLEGED SHOPLIFTER SATURDAY EVENING

Quick work of Detective Schmirer and A. J. Ingold resulted in the capture of an alleged shoplifter here Saturday evening. A woman 34 years of age and giving her name as Mayne Schogor visited the Fair Store, Green's and the Woolworth store taking articles at each place. Her strange actions at the Fair led Mr. Ingold to report the matter to the police. The stores were immediately searched by the officer and Mr. Ingold and watch was kept for her on the street. She was readily located on College avenue and taken to the police station.

The woman feigned illness as soon as she reached the police office and asked to go to a hotel. She was accompanied there by the police but when questioned as to whether she roomed there, she stated she had "checked out" and had sent her grip to Oshkosh, which she claimed as her home. The room she occupied was searched, however, and a quantity of goods discovered, including linens, ribbons and other articles, all of which were identified by the owners of the three stores involved. She was then lodged in jail and became subject to temporary illness, which made it necessary to remove her to St. Elizabeth's hospital where she was given relief. She was kept under guard there until her appearance in court today.

According to information gathered by the police, she has been married three times, her present husband being F. E. Swanson. Her residence at Oshkosh was verified and a search made of her home there but no further evidences of theft could be found. She registered at the Appleton hotel under the name of Mayne Schogor. Mail addressed to her here came in the name of Mrs. Swanson.

She was to appear in court this afternoon on the charge of larceny.

What is Shoe Economy?

Economy of price is one thing. Economy of quality is another. Usually when you try to save a little on price you pay for it several times over; you get shoes that won't last and you buy more often.

It's just the other way with quality economy. If you do pay a bit more, you get it back several times over in wear. You buy less often.

ADVISE MOTORISTS NOT TO BE PANICKY OVER LIGHT RULES

NO REASON FOR AUTO OWNERS TO BECOME EXCITED OVER NEW LAW, COMMISSION STATES

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison—The freight tieup has seriously affected the problem of the enforcement of the new automobile light orders of the industrial commission, which become effective May 1, 1920. Thousands of lenses have been ordered by dealers throughout the state, the delivery of which is held up.

"Motorists should not become panicky over this situation," said John A. Hoeveler, electrical engineer of the Industrial Commission, "and should not resort to makeshift methods in an attempt to get by under the new law. Automobile laws generally have been enforced very reasonably by local authorities, and there is no ground for assuming that they will act otherwise with reference to the new lighting orders."

Motorists cannot satisfy the new orders by merely painting the top of their lens. It is entirely possible to comply with the new orders without buying any patented devices, but to do so motorists must pay attention to having their lamps of the proper candle power rating, the proper focus-

LITTLE VIOLATION OF "BONE DRY" LAWS

DEPUTY PROHIBITION OFFICER AVERS THAT PROHIBITION LAWS ARE OBSERVED HERE

There is little violation of the prohibition law in Appleton and Outagamie county, according to F. H. Bloodgood, Whitewater, deputy state prohibition commissioner, who visited here last week.

"I find there is not much violation of the law in the sections of the state I have thus far visited," said Mr. Bloodgood. "Here and there we find some people who have been secretly making beverages containing alcohol in intoxicating quantities and selling it, but most of the cases have been of minor importance and proper punishment has been carried out. What we especially wish to do is to prevent any extensive attempts to evade the law, either in making or selling, and if such violations are found, to see to it that the persons are prosecuted. The state commission does not act so much as a sleuthing body as it does an organization to stand back of the regular local officials in their efforts to stop violations. We work in connection with the federal prohibition officers, the latter having the necessary policing powers."

BANDITS TRY TO HOLD RAIDED POKER DEN

POLICEMEN LINED UP WITH GAMBLERS BUT QUICK ACTION ROUTS THE HIGH-WAYMEN

New York—While the police were breaking up a gambling game in a Harlem flat early on Sunday there entered another but not a raiding party of five masked men armed with pistols. A negro elevator man was shot fatally and the bandits escaped in an automobile, dragging with them one of their number, believed to have been wounded.

A tenant's complaint brought Lieut. L. F. McMahon and Detectives Ryan, Cooke and Rand to the house where they found thirteen men taking an apparently financial interest in a card game. A patrol wagon was sent for while the waiting prisoners, backed up against the wall, were making mental lists of possible bondsmen.

Five Enter Building In the meantime, five men entered the building and directed Herbert Hays, the elevator boy, to take them to the third floor. On the way up Hays said the men drew pistols and adjusted masks. Then, when the third floor was reached, the taller man pressed his gun against Hays' ribs and backed him into the corridor. The other four men went to the door of the raided apartment and rang the bell.

Thinking that it was Cooke back from the station with the patrol wagon, Ryan opened the door and promptly obeyed the command of hands up. The bandits forced the plain clothes man in front of them into the room, where Ryan's quick obedience was followed by the other detectives and their prisoners.

As the bandits began a search of the party, Ryan turned slightly and managed to drop his right hand to his side unnoticed. In a flash he drew his pistol and commenced firing.

Elevator Boy Shot The confusion gave Lieut. McMahon his chance, and he got into action. Outside the apartment, Hays broke from his captor at the first shot and made for the elevator. A man with a blue mask fired point blank and the negro crumpled up in the elevator with a bullet in his abdomen.

The five bandits dashed down the stairs and fled in the automobile.

PERFECTS PROCESS TO MAKE LEATHER FROM FISH SKINS

COAST FISHERMAN IS FIRST TO PRODUCE LEATHER FROM LARGE FISH—PRODUCT IMPROVEMENT OVER OLD

(Special to Post-Crescent) New York—"Shoe leather is going up!"

"Price of shoes to drop!" "Shoe price may become prohibitive!" What is the cause of this? A fishwife, housewife, business woman, or school girl? Amid conflicting predictions she has not yet been told what will really happen. Not one, except that comes what may, the MIST wear shoes.

Leather from Fish Skin But one man HAS a very definite idea of one thing which will happen in the shoe industry. That man is Alfred Ehrenreich, president of the Ocean Leather Company, and more inventor of the process by which leather is being made out of fish skin. Mr. Ehrenreich proposes to make leather out of the skins of such sea creatures as sharks, dogfish and porpoises. He first had the idea 14 years ago.

Years of Experiments In his time he had been a great fisherman, and he conceived the idea that a valuable source of leather was not being utilized. He got to work, and many times saw his experiments fail. But one day he drew out of the tanning vat a perfect sheet of leather, a shark skin, covering an area of almost a hundred square feet. Today the daily haul of fish for Mr. Ehrenreich's plant is likely to be anywhere from 1000 to 10,000 fish. This fact, he believes, points to a future when everyone will be using shark skin in some form, inevitably helping to reduce the high cost of shoes and other leather goods.

Cheap and Durable It is said that sea leather is more durable, cheaper and takes color and finish better than steer or cowhide. It is also amenable to splitting and to thinning by friction. Sea leather tans in from one to two weeks; leather of land animals takes from one to two years. The cost of producing the sea leather is almost nothing, and the supply practically unlimited.

As yet it has not proved profitable to use the skin of sea fish. The removal of the scales leaves minute holes and shows scars, just as a sliced bird shows a scar for every ducked feather. Leather made from sea fish is, however, very decorative for toilet articles, for where the scales have been there remains a pattern.

FOUR TONS OF MAIL CARRIED IN A WEEK

FIRST WARD RESIDENTS GET THE HEAVIEST MAIL—TRUCKS OF-TER MEASURE OF RELIEF

Nearly four tons of mail are delivered by the city carriers each week, according to figures compiled during the period from April 12 and 17 inclusive. Actual weight of the mail delivered to the business and residential districts not including parcel post, was 7,747 pounds. Of this amount, 3,195 pounds is taken out by the carrier, who they leave the postoffice. An additional lot weighing 4,552 pounds is relayed to them by truck.

This means that in one day each carrier handles an average of 91 pounds of mail, and a second class mail matter, 45 pounds of which he carries from the postoffice himself and 50 pounds of which is brought to him by truck while on the route. It was found that the residence district of the first ward and the business section receive the heaviest mail. More magazines are taken by the people of the first ward. These figures were compiled for a special report to the postoffice department at Washington showing how much mail each area actually carries to his patrons.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks' VapoRub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vicks' VapoRub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

For instance, the fisher people of Scotland, who regard the sight or mention of a pig as a bad omen, are accustomed to touch iron.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL FORCED AS SOLUTION OF SCHOOL PROBLEM

school and the new building for the senior high school as seems most advisable.

"Furthermore, there need be no compulsion on the districts as to the junior high school proposition. It could be left to each district to decide whether or not it would send its seventh and eighth grades, or either, to the junior high school, or continue to the same in the districts, or it could be left to the parents and children in the seventh and eighth grades in the various districts whether they would attend the junior high school or continue through the grade schools.

"Incidentally it may be said that some of the districts also lack room in their present buildings and if a junior high school was available it would relieve them of the necessity of rebuilding for some time to come.

Involves Much Money
"There is no denying the fact that either plan, that of building an addition, or of acquiring a new site and erecting a new building, involves a large expenditure of money. The latter plan perhaps more than the former, but Appleton is at that point, and the expenditure of a large sum of money cannot be avoided; and the Board of Education feels that the additional cost of adopting the right plan at this time is far offset by the deplorable mistake that would be made in pursuing a patch like policy with no plan or vision for the future that the building of an addition means.

"Of course, it is true that an addition can be built on the east end of our present building and it is true that a similar addition can be built on the west end after the first addition is filled; but the first addition would be filled immediately and it would be necessary to build the second addition within a very few years, and then what would we have? No provision for a junior high school; no room for expansion to meet future up-to-date educational ideas and Appleton would trail behind the other cities of the state in its educational equipment.

Additions Impracticable
"Furthermore, there are many practical difficulties in the way of attaching either one or two additions to our present building. We now have a complete symmetrical and architecturally graceful building. The additions would practically fill all the high school lot; they would be fireproof structures attached to a structure that is not fire-proof, and the interference with the light in the building would be almost prohibitive, and proper light in a school building is one of the first essentials. There are many other practical difficulties that I am unable to set forth, but which anyone can see would readily arise.

"The Board of Education sincerely hopes that the people of Appleton will give the most careful consideration to this problem, which I say, without fear of contradiction, is the most important problem before the city today. We are confronted with the absolute necessity, we must choose one way or the other. Either plan involves the expenditure of a large sum of money, and we sincerely hope that the people of Appleton will rise to the occasion and be willing to make the necessary financial sacrifice to give their children the best that can be had in education."

Likes Block 9
"There should be an adjustment here very soon that will lead to the erection of a junior high school," said Paul G. W. Keller, principal of the high school.

The logical plan and the coming thing, he stated, is two junior high schools in different sections of the city. Appleton is too small a city to maintain two at present, however, but could do so when the population becomes 35,000 or more. What the city should have now is one central plant that can have all the fine things and facilities a junior high school should have.

The suggestion of Mr. Keller is to have the city purchase Block 9, which takes in the property now occupied by the C. F. Smith livery on Lawrence street. This is a natural community center, centrally located and while the city was adding the school to its community center group at that point, it would be removing a building that would not be located there.

Build One Unit Now
One unit of the junior high school should be erected now, capable of housing 400 pupils. This would take care of the overflow from the high school and also accommodate 100 pupils from the seventh and eighth grades of the district schools. It could be optional with the districts as to whether they would retain their pupils of junior high school years within their districts or send them to the central building.

As the practicability of the junior institution was shown, another unit could be built at the west, bordering Jones park, leaving a wide court between the two. At the south end Mr. Keller suggests that an administrative unit be built. This combination would take care of the city's needs for some time to come. The first unit would be used for academic training, the west structure for manual training, domestic science and laboratory work and the south building for offices, library, gymnasium and other functions.

Addition More Expensive
The plan of building one unit now is a compromise on the question of expenditures, according to Mr. Keller. Approximately $300,000 would have to be spent for each addition to the high school. Besides this there would have to be a readjustment of the heating system with perhaps the installation of larger boilers. Classroom rearrangement would also represent an expense as well as that of arranging for a suitable gymnasium. Basement rooms are out of the question for classes and some plan would be necessary to provide floor level for rooms. By the time all of these alterations were made the expense would surpass all expectations and be a great deal more with less accomplished than if the land on Lawrence street were purchased and used for the first unit of the junior high school. Revenue derived from rentals of the houses located on the remainder of the tract would increase the income. Most difficult of all in case additions are built to the high school would be the provision of proper lighting. This is an important detail. Present figures show that there are 700 pupils in the seventh and eighth grades of the school districts, according to Mr. Keller. These and the graduates from the parochial schools must be considered as well as those in the overcrowded high school.

Better for Pupils

Not only would the erection of a junior high school solve the problem of congestion, but it would enrich the curriculum of the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades. They should have a knowledge of the sciences, Mr. Keller believes. This would not be taught on the specialized scale that the senior high school provides, but would give a boy or girl leaving school upon completion of the eighth grade a general and fundamental knowledge of these subjects, something they do not enjoy now. Regular academic studies, manual training, domestic science and sciences such as chemistry, and physics would be taught there. Equipment would be superior to that which any one school building could provide.

Opportunity would also be afforded for pre-vocational testing and training, one of the most valuable features of a junior high school, according to Mr. Keller. By letting the pupil come into contact with various studies and vocations he could be helped to choose work he is fitted for and could be assisted in this regard by his instructors.

Looking to the future and with a desire to keep Appleton in the foremost ranks along educational lines, it is the feeling of Mr. Keller that a junior high school would be the only solution of the school problem which would meet with universal approval in the end.

INSULT TO LEGION ENDS VICE REGIME IN TEXAS OIL TOWN

MORAL BATTLE BETWEEN PURITY LEAGUE AND UNDERWORLD FORCES PROVES FATAL IRE

(By Jesse F. Gelders)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Desdemona, Texas—The click of poker chips and the sharp command, "Hands up!"

American Legion men pitted against the men and women who took their illicit share of oil boom prosperity—under glaring lights to the tune of mechanical pianos.

The dawn of victory for home-loving citizens, after a bitter fight in which death threats have flown thick and fast—

This is the story of a town's regeneration, after the breath of the bad old west threatened to set back moral progress for a generation or more.

With its rush of wealth, gambling, from subterranean reservoirs, evil days fell on the law-abiding community of Desdemona. Two hundred and fifty of the original 300 townspeople left, declaring that "it was no fit place to bring up a family."

And, while no one disagreed with them, no one attempted to better conditions until a Purity League was formed, to clean out the crooks.

"Tenderfoot" Aids Vice Forces

Back of the gang was a suave, well-groomed person who would have been hailed as a typical tenderfoot in the days when the west was wild. He was graduated from an aristocratic eastern college; then he came to Desdemona and began the organization of a vice machine.

J. S. Sanders, secretary of the league, said: "Lots of us were even sorry that oil had been found. It brought money, but it's cost us something money couldn't buy."

The league paid two deputy sheriffs special salaries of $125 a month.

But open gambling, continued, painted women swarmed the main street by day and night, moonshine whisky flowed in without restraint.

Governor Hobby was appealed to. Sanders wrote the governor:

"There are seven gambling houses running wide open under the direct protection of the sheriff and the county attorney's departments."

"Every officer in this county, including the justice of the peace, is believed to be getting his share of the take-off. If any one tries to get one of these houses raided, while the warrants are being sworn out one of the local officers will notify the houses to close. If you will go into one of these houses for a few hours at night you will see from one to three local officers."

"More than 100 immoral women are paying for protection. Desdemona is in disgrace today."

"I taught school in Texas nine years. I have a wife, three little girls and two boys. I have one of the best homes in Desdemona. Have I any protection under the law?"

The pastor of the Baptist church and the Purity League chairman were pelted with beer bottles as they shadowed a dive.

Peacock Forced Out

A grand jury was called. Deputy Sheriff Peacock was ordered dismissed and George "Bit" Bedford, another deputy, resigned.

But the Purity League was still on the defensive. Peacock circulated a petition and had himself appointed constable. Bedford was reappointed deputy sheriff and the opponents of the league were more strongly entrenched than ever.

Peacock charged that Sanders and Captain Horace Soule had hired the president of the league to kill him.

"Peacock challenged any representative of the league to a gun duel," said Soule, an attorney.

The next turn of the battle came with the incorporation of the town of Desdemona and its first election.

The Purity League placed a ticket in the field, which was unopposed until two days before election, when another set of candidates was announced, with Peacock seeking the office of town marshal.

Then came the rangers. They rode into town under the governor's orders and burned six wagonloads of gambling equipment on election day!

Many voters appeared with affidavits permitting them to vote. It is charged that these were issued in wholesale lot, in blanket form.

The gang was in power. The women, who had left town in fear of the Purity League's success, flocked with reinforcements.

New gambling outfits were hastily erected and the town again was wide open.

Once more the rival gambling joints competed for trade. Cards were distributed inviting patrons to "Monte Carlo" and similar resorts.

Then it was that the gang, grown arrogant, overstepped itself and kindled the wrath of the legion men, which meant the finish of free-and-easy vice in Desdemona.

Peacock Wins Warpath

Bob Peacock, accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law, incited the headquarters of the legion. Peacock covered three men with a gun while the women tore down posters and clippings from the walls. They destroyed a banquet announcement bearing the portrait of Captain A. F. Bates, post commander, whom all the service men knew as "Pa."

As a member of the Purity League, Bates had attacked corruption.

The state legion headquarters was notified. Where the torn poster clung to the wall, newspaper clippings describing the affair were pasted, and a new poster displayed. Peacock, confident of his pull and power, was in a rage. Again he tore down the poster.

Then the state officials were roused. Plainclothes men arrived and the painted women began to steal away. Gambling halls are dark in Desdemona; the law has arrived; the "Purity League," coming into power, has wiped out organized crookedness.

Peter Schuh of Milwaukee, who formerly ran a barber shop in Appleton, is renewing acquaintances here after an absence of twelve years. For the last eight years he has been engaged in electrical business.

THE STORE OF MANY DEPARTMENTS

SUCCESS BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

YES, so busy has our Grocery Department been since the first Special Price Grocery Advertisement, three weeks ago, that the issuing of a regular list each week, as per our promise has been utterly impossible. Enormous crowds of hungry bargain seekers thronged our store daily, nearly crippling our regular and added force—due to overwork.

WHAT DOES THIS SIGNIFY?

Why, everybody's wise—they shop at Gloudemans-Gage because it leaves them with more extra change.

WEAK SISTERS FACE WEEK OF WITHERING ASSAULT IN MAJORS

TEAMS ARE GETTING THEIR BATTING EYES AND SHAKE-UP IN STANDINGS IS COMING.

(By Henry Farrell.)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York. Now for the withering season.

Withering is what a water lily would do in the desert; what a cactus would do on a hunk of ice, and what a second string ball club does in the rich soil at the top when the growing gets hard.

The withering season is about due in baseball.

The Cubs and Giants are showing the first indications of rising in the National league, but the American league is staying fairly well put.

Brooklyn leads the list in the National league.

The Reds slipped last week, dropping three out of five games. They scored 12 runs, 44 hits, but got only four pitching.

With the ancient Babe Adams showing the way to youngsters, the Pirates rolled into the third hole. They broke even in four games last week. They are hitting the poorest in the league, but excellent pitching is holding them steady.

The Cards are mauling the ball, hitting the heaviest in the league. Schupp and Doak are the only pitchers working right but with six in the lineup (clubbing between 300 and 750, Mickey doesn't need a flock of star floggers).

The Cubs are hitting third and as soon as Mitchell's pitchers come to earth someone will have to make way for them farther up.

The Giant pitchers are coming to now and their eyes are working better at the plate. They are due to arise also.

The White Sox are the sensation of the American league. Gleason has copped six straight games with three pitchers. Lefty Williams has won three. Eddie Cicotte two, and Red Faber pulled a surprise by kicking in a win.

The old reliables, Weaver, Collins and Jackson, are doing all the clubbing—and someone said the Sox were through.

Though they won five out of six last week and hit the heaviest in the league, the Red Sox will have to hustle to keep out of the path of that Cleveland bunch of Indians.

Speaker went through the week without dropping one—he averaged ten runs a game, the club is hitting second and Corvieskie is in shape.

Miller Huggins shook up his Yankees last week and even if the team did lose Babe Ruth, it is showing some of its potential strength. The team is beginning to hit and with good pitching they'll come.

Detroit hasn't won a game yet. They are hitting fourth but Jennings can't find a pitcher to go through nine innings.

Lepers Live Fairly Well

The 5,000 lepers of Cuhon, Philippine islands sell the products of their farming and fishing to the government, which in turn furnishes them with rations and supplies. The lepers send money each month to their relatives in the outside world.

$420 IN PRIZES IS SPLIT BY BOWLERS

APPLETON MEN GET LION'S SHARE OF AWARDS IN OLYMPIC BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Four hundred and twenty dollars in prize money was awarded to bowlers who competed in the tourney at the Olympic alleys which closed Thursday. Appleton pin knights copped the greatest share of the dough, although Menasha made a great showing considering the small number of men entered from the neighboring city.

E. Ostertag and W. Carley, Menasha, led in the whirligig doubles event with 1280, and dragged down $52 for their share. Ostertag also copped first in the singles with a 670 score.

Hotel Appletons won the five man event handily with a 2889 score. The prize was $32.50.

The Chief End of Brains.

A member of congress, a new man and therefore not widely known in Washington, found himself one day in the hands of a barber of the proverbial talkative sort who was employed in a Washington hostelry, says the Youth's Companion.

"You have a large head, sir," observed the barber, as he was trimming the locks of the statesman. "It is a good thing to have a large head, for a large head means a large brain, and a large brain is the most useful thing a man can have, for it nourishes the roots of the hair."

Eighty per cent of the machinery imported into Japan in 1918 came from the United States, 16 per cent from Great Britain and 4 per cent from other sources.

CIVIL AVIATION IS GAINING GROUND IN EASTERN NATIONS

LEADING COUNTRIES OF EUROPE ESTABLISHING TRADE AND MAIL ROUTES TO WORLD CENTERS

(By Milton Bronner)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
London. All over Europe the wide-awake nations are pushing to the utmost the matter of civil aviation. Let me epitomize in a few paragraphs what has been done on this side:

Great Britain

A regular Department of Civil Aviation has been set up and placed under the direction of Maj. Gen. F. H. Sykes, who was connected with the military air forces during the war. Extensive studies and preparations are being made by this department for five great "air-red" routes, which will link up the empire by air for commercial and postal services.

These routes are Egypt to India, Cairo to the Cape of Good Hope, India to Australia, England to Egypt, and England to Canada. The first four are well on their way to completion. For instance, for the great Cape to Cairo route there are no fewer than 43 prepared airmen with an average distance of 124 miles between each. Twenty-four of these are already supplied with stations with gasoline and oil.

One of the first big things the government did was to transfer the meteorological service to Sykes' department so that it could make a special study of the air and make special reports for the benefit of airmen.

Firms engaged in civil air traffic in England report that since the armistice, covering a sum total of over 5,000 hours and mileage of 619,000, and carrying 66,000 passengers. The Air Department issued licenses to 274 pilots and for 92 aerodromes.

Preparations are under way for the establishment of land or sea aerodromes, under control of the municipal authorities in Edinburgh, Newcastle, Liverpool, Leeds, Bradford, Hull, Manchester and other important towns. At Hounslow England has established what is believed to be the only customs office in the world for air traffic. The recommendation has been made by Sykes that to develop the infant industry of airplane building, a subsidy of some kind be granted by the government.

FRANCE

The control of civil aviation has been placed under the Department of Aviation, which itself is directly under the Ministry of War. Thirty-seven million francs have been allowed by the government for the development of civil aviation, of which 18,000,000 are to be used as subsidies. They are to go only to concerns whose nationality is wholly French. Bonuses will be paid for distances flown, on tonnage carried, to pilots and crew for good work, and special grants to firms constructing machines which would be immediately of military value in case of war. Mail routes are now in operation between Paris and London, Paris to Brussels, and Toulon to Rabat. France has gone after the business in the near east and its military machines have been carrying civil mail from Athens to Salonika, Constantinople to Salonika, same city to Bucharest, and from Bucharest to Kishineff.

The French are pioneering in Czechoslovakia and Spain and have sent missions to Argentina and Japan.

They are shortly sending missions to Brazil, China, Finland, Greece, Peru, Poland, Rumania, Siberia, Switzerland and Turkey. In order still further to meet the competition of the world in getting contracts, it is probable France will encourage the forming of the big companies into one big combine.

ITALY

This country is busily engaged in trying to press the sale of her aircraft product. She has sent missions to Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, Spain and the Scandinavian countries and has made gifts of machines to various governments so they can try out the airplanes. Efforts are being made to form a combine to go after world trade and several of the big firms like Caproni, F. I. A. T. and Isotta-Fraschini have already joined it.

GERMANY

A serious competitor for world business is being discovered in Germany, which partly to avoid terms of peace treaty and partly to make an early bid for the foreign market, sold large numbers of airplanes and engines at very low figures to Norway, Sweden, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland. It has thus already secured a substantial footing in those countries.

Government officials have stated their purpose to be to foster civil aviation in the belief that the leading commercial power in the air will have the strongest reserve force in the event of another war.

The postoffice in Berlin accepts airmail letters for Munich, Vienna, Dresden, Leipzig and other towns. The only thing that has kept them from organizing a big passenger service is the scarcity of gasoline. The service between Berlin and Friedrichshafen, about 400 miles, is still maintained, and it is hoped soon to start regular service between Berlin and all the great Scandinavian capitals.

The air policy so far as outlined is for the state to subsidize companies; the state is to own the aerodromes; a combine is to be formed, each firm in it to standardize a type after it is approved by the government.

In order to keep in touch with experts abroad, an Airmen's Union has been formed somewhat similar to the famous old German Navy League, which added so much to the fighting strength of the German navy.

The number of pensioners on Uncle Sam's pay list on June 30, 1919, was 624,427.

CIGARETTE STUB STARTS SMALL FIRE

AWNING ON HERMANN GROCERY WAS DAMAGED YESTERDAY MORNING. EXERCISE MORE CARE

A new awning on the A. J. Hermann grocery caught fire about eight o'clock Sunday morning, supposedly from a cigarette stub that was slipped into the air and landed in its folds. The blaze was extinguished by firemen who used chemicals. Only the west portion of the awning was damaged.

This is the third instance this spring where fires have been blamed to the careless practice of flipping cigarette "butts" into the air rather than throwing them to the walk and extinguishing them. An awning of a jewelry store on west College avenue was destroyed a few months ago and an umbrella carried by a pedestrian recently met the same fate. Cigarettes usually burn to the end after they are thrown aside and carelessness in depositing them is said to be the source of possible fires.

SENSATIONAL RISE IN GRAIN FUTURES

MAY RYE JUMPED 11 CENTS IN FIRST HOUR BUT STEADIED LATER — ALL PRICES UP

By United Press Local Wire

Chicago—Grain futures, following a sensational jump at the opening on the Chicago board of trade today, steadied later on moderate trading and sustained sharp declines.

The market, however, continued above the opening. Cold rains in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, had oats seeding, realization of heavy foreign buying in rye and a rush to cover by shorts, were responsible for the jump. New highs were established in rye and May oats.

May rye caused a sensation among traders when it jumped eleven cents in the first hour of trading. After reaching the new high of $2.16, it fell off five cents. July rye opened up at $2.02 and went to 20 1/4.

The jump in rye, which started by realization of foreign buying, sent shorts to cover and corn and oats took big jumps. May corn jumped eight cents in the first hour but declined later as the market steadied.

May corn opened 2 1/2 higher at $1.70 and later was up 2 1/2. July corn 2 1/2 higher at the opening.

September corn at $1.56 was 1 1/2 higher at the opening and later gained 3 1/4.

May oats opened up 1 1/2 at 97 1/2 and later gained 1 1/2. July oats opened 2 1/2 higher at $9 1/2 but later lost 1 1/2.

Provisions were higher.

RAILROAD STOCKS WELL UP UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF READING BEAR RAID STARTED

New York — The stock market closed strong, the rail issues being led by Reading and the Industrials by American Woolen. Throughout the greater part of the day the market had shown marked strength and the United States supreme court decision in the Reading case had increased the confidence of the street in stock values.

After a generally strong day, there was a brief raid on the market after two o'clock which was apparently on the short account and from which the market quickly rallied for the close.

At its top figure, Reading was practically eleven points up on the day. The strength in American Woolen was in connection with a rumor that the American Woolen Company was about to declare a stock dividend the size of which varied in the estimates from 25 to 70 per cent.

New York — The stock market closed strong, the rail issues being led by Reading and the Industrials by American Woolen. Throughout the greater part of the day the market had shown marked strength and the United States supreme court decision in the Reading case had increased the confidence of the street in stock values.

After a generally strong day, there was a brief raid on the market after two o'clock which was apparently on the short account and from which the market quickly rallied for the close.

At its top figure, Reading was practically eleven points up on the day. The strength in American Woolen was in connection with a rumor that the American Woolen Company was about to declare a stock dividend the size of which varied in the estimates from 25 to 70 per cent.

UNDERWOOD WANTS THE TREATY RE-SUBMITTED

Washington, D. C.—The allies having yielded to the president on the settlement of the Adriatic question, Democratic senators hope Mr. Wilson will resubmit the German peace treaty to the senate, with suggestions of a compromise on reservations acceptable to the majority.

Senator Underwood, who is about to become leader on the senate minority, intends to urge the president to resubmit the treaty before the foreign relations committee completes the resolution declaring peace.

In view of the concessions to his the president, it is contended, could demands made by the allied premiers, with good grace send the treaty again to the senate, asking ratification. Senator Underwood, however, will tell the president that unless he makes concessions to the senate majority the treaty cannot be ratified. Senator Knox said today that the senate would pass the peace resolution in his opinion before taking a recess for the national conventions.

DEMPSEY'S MARRIAGE IS CALLED ILLEGAL

San Francisco, Calif.—Mrs. Maxine Dempsey probably will testify against Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, when the pugilist faces trial on charges of draft evasion, it was announced here today.

Special Agent E. M. Blanford, of the department of justice who made the announcement said the department had proof the Dempsey marriage was illegal, thereby obviating difficulty with the rule that a wife may not testify against a husband.

Blanford said the department had proof that the Dempseys were married within too short a time after Mrs. Dempsey's divorce.

Draft evasion charges were filed against the champion at the instance of Maxine Dempsey who was divorced from him shortly before his rise to fame.

Quinlan, district manager of the Wisconsin Telephone company, and occupied by himself and Manager Garland of the local exchange, was badly damaged when struck by a car owned and driven by Nick Grishbach, Black Creek, a short distance north of Second avenue on the Mackville road, Saturday.

Mr. Quinlan was driving south when he encountered Grishbach, who was driving north, following closely behind a team. Mr. Grishbach suddenly lost control of his machine and swung sharply to the left and Mr. Quinlan turned on a side road to avoid a collision. Grishbach was unable to regain control of his car, however, and crashed into the other machine. None of the occupants were injured.

HOLD RAILROAD FOR BLACK TOM EXPLOSION

Washington.—The Lehigh Valley railroad was held responsible for damages of nearly $800,000 as the result of the "Black Tom" explosion, near Jersey City, in 1916, by the action of the supreme court today in declining to review 13 appealed cases.

The explosion started in shipments of munitions to the allies, after which fires spread rapidly and destroyed the property of those seeking damage from the railroads in whose terminal the munitions were stored.

Palm sugar, called "laggery," is obtained in India from a species of palm trees.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN THE SUGAR SITUATION

The sugar situation in Appleton is getting worse instead of better. Quotations received by dealers this morning indicated that the wholesale price would be up to 27 cents per pound f. o. b. New York, by July, which will mean at least thirty cent sugar to the consumer providing it can be had at all. Just at present there is a great scarcity in the city and most of the grocers are disposing of it in one, two and five pound packages.

A carload of sugar now represents an investment of from $15,000 to $19,000, depending on the size of the car, and very few grocers are able to handle it in carload lots and have to depend on wholesale grocers for their supply.

IRON HORSE MAY DRIVE OLD DOBBIN FROM FARM

to the apprehension of faithful old Dobbin. Despite the encroachments of auto trucks and tractors, Dobbin has rested secure in the belief that there are farm tasks which no machine can do, but the appearance in Appleton last Saturday of an "iron horse" caused him to lose some of his confidence.

The "iron horse" is a tractor which is handled much like a horse is driven. It can be attached to a load of hay or a farm machine and directed with leather reins as a team of horses would be guided. The machine attracted much attention as it rolled over Appleton streets through heavy traffic Saturday afternoon.

Grip, Influenza

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive

During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "flu" germs.

Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.

Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison.—Wisconsin in the country-wide fight to eradicate tuberculosis among cattle leads all other states in the record for March, 1920. Dr. J. S. Healy who is in charge of the "accredited herds" work for the State department of Agriculture and the Federal department reports that during the month of March 211 herds aggregating 4,935 head of cattle were tested and that 4,790 cattle passed the test safely. There are now in Wisconsin 88 accredited herds, an increase of 27 clean herds in one month. In the monthly report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Wisconsin leads all the states in the number of animals tested. The "accredited herd" plan, it should be explained, is one of the methods adopted to eradicate tuberculosis. After a herd is cleaned up and is kept free from any infected animals, it is placed on the accredited list for both the state and the federal records.

COOPERATIVE STORE IS BEST H. C. I. SOLUTION

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Chicago.—Co-operative societies and stores are the quickest and most efficient means of reducing the high cost of living.

Farmer producers, possessing the production machinery, are willing to cooperate with consumers who will organize distributing machinery.

These are statements by P. L. Betts, president of the Farmers' Equity Union and founder and for three years manager of the string of cooperative creameries in the Dakotas, Colorado and Kansas.

Butts declares the bank's opposition in refusing proper credit is the biggest obstacle cooperative food marketing has.

Betts said the Farmers' Equity Union in the Middle West were first organized to beat the country grain elevator profiteer. Now they are buying necessary supplies and selling their products on the cooperative plan. Last year nearly $1,500,000 in sales were handled by Betts' Chicago office for the 2,500 producers banded together at Aberdeen, S. D., and the smaller organizations at Orleans, N. D., Liberal, Kan., and Limon, Col.

It is told of an old negro servant of roguish propensities, as many a dandy is, that on one occasion he was unjustly reprimanded by his master for the disappearance of a certain article of value. His reply was: "Marse Andrew, I has enuff to answer fer wid the scussions what is jest, widout having to be responsible for dem what aint so."

Where He Was Weak

The other day, mil little cousin brought him his report card marked A plus for everything except deportment. His father said: "Why, John, how does this happen?" John's reply was: "Well, but daddy, that's my hardest study"—Exchange.

Delineating the Giraffe.
Gibson's note on the giraffe shows what a mystery the beast was to our eighteenth century ancestors. Describing the inglorious achievements of the Emperor Commodus in the amphitheater, he mentions that "Commodus killed a camelopardalis, or giraffe, the tallest, the most gentle and the most useless of the large quadrupeds."

Of the 74 flying fatalities in the U. S. air service during 1919, 83 per cent are attributed to the fault or carelessness of the pilot as the primary cause, and 8 per cent to the failure of the plane.

TRICK PLAY RULES HARD ON SOTHORON

HAD A HARD TIME OF IT ON OPENING DAY—BRAINS AND GOOD ARM WILL SOLVE THE JINX.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
A fellow who has enough brains to invent all the little tricks that Allan Sothoron is famous for is smart enough to produce other foolers.
There are two kinds of pitchers:
The pitcher with brains and a good arm.

The pitcher with a good arm.
Sothoron is one of the first class.
They declare he was a winning pitcher
with the Browns because he had so much trick stuff; that most of his repertoire was bluff. Well, granting his critics are right, you must admit he has brains.

And there is none but that will swear he had a good arm.

They've taken all his tricks away
from him, but he'll come back with something else. He is young and his arm is as good as it ever was. His brain is better. So just watch for Allan Sothoron to wind up the season of 1920 with another good record.

Cleveland opened wisely against Sothoron in the getaway game. They hit him hard and often. The Indians were murderously inclined before huge home crowd that had been talking pennant all winter. And the Indians look like a team that can hammer most any pitching this year. And a lot of their hits on opening day got away from some fellow by inches.
They had the breaks on all of them.

On the other hand, Sothoron seemed bothered a bit by the restrictions on the pitchers imposed in the winter's legislation. He looked awkward as he held the ball away from his glove or shirt. He used to be rubbing it against himself all the time.
But on opening day he carefully took off his glove and held the ball at arm's length when he rubbed it in his hands. He didn't want to be caught from the game.

This was all unnatural to him and probably it made him feel as awkward as he looked.

He says his arm is not quite right
and that he will be as good as ever when he gets started once.

"I could have used the spitter on opening day if I had chosen," says Allan. Manager Burke had permission from Ban Johnson to substitute me as a spitball pitcher in place of Gallia.

"But I don't use the spitter much;
it's only a bluff, same as a lot of other stuff I've pretended to use."

Opportunity for Every Boy

It was a wise dispensation of Providence
to have invented so many games for boys that every boy can pick out at least one in which he can excel all rivals, and have the memory of his prowess to support him when he has grown old.

Life's Treasures

The gold of life does not lie hidden in mines; it sparkles in tiny sands all along the common path of every day.
He who only gathers it bit by bit from daily duties and pleasures and opportunities and friendships will find himself the possessor of the real treasure at last.

Dickens' Cold

Charles Dickens had a cold and thus described it in a letter to a friend: "I am at this moment deaf in the ears, hoarse in the throat, red in the nose, green in the gills, damp in the eyes, twitchy in the joints and fractious in the temper."

MINNEAPOLIS MAN GAINS 20 POUNDS

LY KEEP ON HIS FEET—WELL AND STRONG, NOW

"I have not only gained twenty pounds since I began taking Tanlac
but I feel so fine all the time that my father has commenced taking it too and I have called in here today to get four more bottles," said Martin Haugen of 1051 Sixteenth Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., when he called at the drug store a few days ago. Mr. Haugen is a popular bookkeeper for the Dickenson Grain Co., and during the late war he served nineteen months in France with the American Expeditionary Forces.

"For three years I have been in bad health. I was in the army but it failed to improve my condition like it did for most of the boys, in fact, I kept getting worse and worse all the time," continued Mr. Haugen. "When I got out of the army I was in such a weakened, run-down condition that I was as pale as a ghost, felt tired all the time, had an awful case of indigestion and, in short, was in the worst fix I had ever been in. My appetite was so poor that I had to force myself to eat enough to keep alive, and even then what I ate disagreed with me and gave me terrible cramping pains in my stomach and caused me to have attacks of heartburn. My blood was in bad condition and I had awful attacks of headaches and my kidneys troubled me so much that I had terrible pains through my back. I couldn't sleep soundly at night and I was so weak that I could hardly get about and all that kept me going was nerves."

"I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing ever did me any good at all until I commenced taking Tanlac and I want to tell you the way it helped me right from the start is simply remarkable. The indigestion has all left me and I am able to eat anything
I please without being troubled in any way. My kidneys are in fine condition and never bother me one bit
and the pains in my back have all disappeared. My blood has been purified and the headaches are a thing of the past. I sleep like a log at night. As I said I have gained twenty pounds and I have more strength and energy than I have had in years, and to make a long story short, I simply feel great."

DEALERS FATTEN PURSES THROUGH HOUSING DEMANDS

PROFITS OF BUILDING
OKLAHOMA SENATOR EXPOSES
SENATE DOCUMENT GIVING MATERIAL CONCERNS

(By Robert L. Owen)
(U. S. Senator from Oklahoma)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington—The housing question is rapidly becoming one of the most serious problems of our national life.
Already the dangerous congestion
and overcrowding which has disturbed for years and now threatens the stability of society in Europe is showing its menacing head in America.

Of course the housing and home
question has at bottom the land question. But in this article, let us consider the common man's problem of building a house in the face of modern monopoly and profiteering.

The cost of even an humble home
is now prohibitive to the average worker and very difficult for the small business and professional man.
A house that used to cost three thousand dollars now costs from six thousand to eight thousand dollars.
What or who is to blame? Is this due to natural law of supply and demand, operating under war and postwar conditions? Or is there excessive and unreasonable profiteering going on?

The political party which fails to meet this issue, to discuss it frankly and fully with a view to its solution,
which fails to offer a reasonable remedy is not entitled to the confidence of the people.

In my last article on clothing I drew some facts from a special treasury report, showing the profits of certain American corporations in the year 1917 from the income and excess profits tax record. This remarkable document practically secret as far as the general public is concerned, is referred to among those who know it at Washington as "Senate Document No. 259."

There are several thousand companies listed in the industries which affect the cost of building and furnishing a home. Seeking the net profits on capital stock after all government taxes have been paid, after allowing for every charge, for depreciation, for loss, for expenditure, and the cost of advertising, here is what I found:

A sawmill with a capital of one million dollars made a profit of $244,- 773.00.

A planing mill of $35,000 capital
with a profit of $17,000, equal to 50
per cent.

A brick plant of $100,000 capital,
with a profit of $38,000, or 38 per cent.

A cement factory of $1,000,000 capital, and a profit of $348,000, equal to 34 per cent.

A contractor with a capital of $150,- 000 made $85,000, or a profit of 57
per cent.

A paint manufacturer with a capital of $975,000, made a profit of $641,- 000, equal to 66 per cent.

A furniture factory with a capital of $394,000, with a profit of $102,000,
equal to 26 per cent.

There are hundreds of companies which made in this year 1917, with the country at war, three, four and five dollars for every dollar invested
after all taxes had been paid.

Furthermore, these profits were exceeded in the years 1918, and 1919 in very many cases.

At the beginning of this year, 1920,

we were subjected to a sudden rise in the general prices of lumber of 50 per cent. With some forms of lumber the price was raised much higher, for example, white quartered oak was raised from $37 to $315 per thousand feet.

The Bureau of Forestry, in response to a resolution introduced by Senator Capper of Kansas, is now making an investigation of this matter. It will probably contain sensational revelations as these violent increases cannot be due to the normal
law of supply and demand.

Often high costs complained of are attributed to labor.

Selecting Chicago as an extreme example I applied to the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics for the facts as to labor cost. I was informed that the average wage paid to workers in nine of the main trades in the building industry, including both skilled and unskilled labor, was 62 cents per hour in July, 1914. In July, 1919, it was 89 cents per hour, average, or an advance of 44 per cent.

But during that period the wholesale prices of building materials had advanced an average of 200 per cent.
It is fair to the worker to remember that in this period his living costs
had increased around 100 per cent,
so that he was in no-wise better off financially, except that employment since 1914 has been and continues more steady.

Both capital and labor must severally receive a fair and just reward for his services, but the rights of the public, and this involves every man who labors or who invests capital, must be considered and protected in a government based upon justice and wisdom.

arettes, but prefer a tiny pipe of ebony.

LICENSE PLUMBERS WITHOUT THE TESTS

MANY TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OP-PORTUNITY TO GAIN LICENSES
UNDER WAIVER CLAUSE.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis. — Under recent amendments to the state plumbing
law, exempting from examination plumbers who apply for licenses in towns between 3,000 and 5,000 population, 82 masters and 70 journeymen
in 27 communities were granted
state licenses. The waiver clause was also taken advantage of by 44

master and 34 journeyman plumbers in 23 towns whose population under the 1910 census was nearly 3,000.
When any of these towns are shown by the new census to exceed 3,000,
they will automatically come under the plumbing licensing requirements,
and plumbers not now licensed there can obtain licenses only after passing examinations.

In 153 smaller places many plumbers have exercised their option to secure licenses under the waiver provision, without examination.

These are excerpts taken from the quarterly report of the bureau of plumbing and domestic sanitary engineering, Frank H. King, director, rendered this week to the state department of engineering.

The report also mentions the revision of the state plumbing law to make it conform with recent amendments. The revised law has been printed in leaflet form for insertion

in the state plumbing code, and is being mailed to all plumbers, architects and others concerned.

Assistance was given in many other cases where it was proposed to install private systems of water supply and sewage disposal where public systems are not available.

"These facts," the report concludes, "form an indication of the increasing extent to which farm and village homes and other buildings are being equipped with these modern sanitary facilities, notwithstanding the absence of municipal systems."

The field men of the department
made 529 inspections in 193 places visited during the quarter. The percentage of rejections of installations was 12.4 of the total.

NATIONAL FAME

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Birmingham, Ala. The starting point of the Overall Club movement as a nation-wide and organized system of relief from exorbitant prices not only in clothing but in all lines of necessities is the Birmingham Overall Club.

Letters are pouring in on the officials of the National Overall Club, headquartered here, from all over the nation with requests for charters and information.

In Florida and other southern states, the advent of spring inspired a few scattered style-revolutionists to appear in denim, but it was Theodore Lamar, a Birmingham attorney, who conceived the idea of founding the national club to route all kinds of profiteers, and proceeded to found it.

During the war, Lamar left his practice to serve as a railroad machinist, returning to the trade of his youth. He found again how comfortable, durable and cleanly are overalls.

Lamar called a meeting of this friends who had been grumbling against the terrific cost of clothing and other necessities.

The first step toward the national organization was to start a strong club in Birmingham.

Judge Alvin M. Douglas was elected president of the local club whose members are pledged to "Don't Denim" and Lamar was made secretary and organizer.

A few days later the order was issued for all members to appear at their places of business in overalls.

A parade of well-known citizens was held, everybody in blue denim.

City officials, members of the Rotary, Kiwanis and citizen club embraced the idea and joined up.

Almost immediately a man in an expensive suit of clothes felt like the person who dreams he is attending a ball in pajamas.

Then the National Overall Club was organized. An official button of an open pair of scissors with the insignia "Cut It, C. L." was adopted.

When the news flashed over the country, letters and telegrams of commendation and others asking charters and information began to pour in.

A city charter costs 50 cents, to cover postage expenses.

Overall manufacturers are hastening to design natty denim suits.

But club members say they will not spend more than $6 for an outfit.

Here are some of the letters received:

To the President of the National Overall Club, Birmingham, Ala. Dear Sir:—Permit me to compliment and congratulate your association for taking the first active, practical step to regain that independence and thrift which distinguished our forefathers, and which was the foundation of our country's greatness.

The splendid manhood which you men have shown may kindle a responsive flame all over the country, and result in a sweeping return at self-reliance, efficiency and self-respect.

Now, while the fever of your purpose still burns brightly, I beg of you to invite through the newspapers the formation of similar clubs in other cities.

Yours faithfully, Winfred S. Yours faithfully, Winfred S. Brainerd

QUARREL AT THE ALTAR

By United Press Leased Wire
Manitowoc, Wis.—Quarreling at the altar delayed the marriage ceremony of a man and woman here at St. Boniface's Catholic church. Shortly before the priest, Rev. Father Piel, was to leave the sacristy for the altar, the groom left the bride alone. He insisted that the priest pronounce the nuptial vows in German. The bride later went into the sacristy. She insisted that the ceremony be in English.

As the embarrassing moments dragged along, with the organ playing the wedding march and the choir singing, the priest complied with the man's wishes.

PALMER WILL NOT BACK UP STRIKERS' ARRESTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington. — Attorney General Palmer today telegraphed District Attorney Wertz at Cleveland calling for a complete explanation of reports that justice department officials there threatened to arrest railroad strikers who did not return to work.

Palmer indicated he will not back up such a policy. His telegram said in part:

"Those who conspire with each other to upset transportation of necessities or transportation of mail are guilty of a crime and are subject to prosecution. The law, however, does not compel an individual to work."

PALMER PLANS JOLT FOR SUGAR MAGNATES

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington. — Attorney General Palmer plans to give a "straight from the shoulder" communication to sugar refiners whom he called to meet here Monday. It was learned today, Palmer, either directly or through Assistant Attorney General Figg, intends to demand that the refiners take measures to keep down soaring sugar prices or give good reasons for the recent increases.

Sugar is now selling at 25 cents per pound in many cities. In others it is not obtainable at any price. Dealers here say sugar may reach 50 cents a pound.

Under Figg's direction, justice department special agents are now investigating a report that the sugar supply has been cornered by speculators.

FOR LOSING HIS WIFE

By United Press Leased Wire
Sioux Falls, S. D.—John Henderson, world war veteran, won a $45,000 verdict in district court here today in his suit against J. C. Blenkeron, of Mitchell, S. D., in which he asked $75,000 damages on the grounds of seduction and alienation of the affections of his wife.

Henderson claims that while he was in the army, Blenkeron persuaded his wife to secure a divorce from Henderson and marry him.

Sensational testimony marked the trial which has been conducted all this week.

LEAVES SENATORS TO BECOME PREXY

MANAGEMENT OF TEAM TO BECOME PRESIDENT OF NATIONALS

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Well, another season has started and some clubs are leaving sweet plaudits and others already are getting the razz. It is pretty early to talk about changing managers, but this is absolutely a straight tip; there will be a change in the management of the Washington club within a few weeks.

George McBride, veteran infielder with the Senators, is slated to step into Griffith's shoes in a very short time.

But, folks, the fans didn't bring that about. It was all Griffith's decision. He is president of the Washington team now and it has been his intention right along to name McBride manager as soon as the 1926 team was whipped into shape and the Nationals were well off in the pennant race.

Griffith now will stick to the "cits" and attend the functions of a big league prexy as befits the office.

And now that he is about to be president and hang up his old uniform we'll have to look into the family bible and see what his full name is. It is Clarke Galvin Griffith, and he was born November 20, 1869, at Nevada, Mo. He has had considerable baseball experience both as player and manager and we won't go into the details here.

As president of the club he already has had some experience and pleasing ones, too. He has found out that the Washington fans are real fans if they're given a square deal and he has reason to believe that with new ownership and new policies there are going to be many parks full this season. Then they'll quit talking about moving the Washington club to Toronto, Indianapolis or somewhere else. The fans know George McBride, too. He's been at it for some time. Breaking into life's game at Milwaukee, Nov. 21, 1881, he has played ball most of the time since that date. He has retired as a regular, but he has been Griffith's first lieutenant for some time. And now he'll be a full-fledged playing manager.

The change may come in a few days or it may be a few weeks, but it won't be long.

The fans are wishing Griffith lots of success as owner and president and the same goes for George McBride in his new job.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A BUSINESS man filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is—
—less than we spend for daily papers
—less than a local telephone call
—less than a third of the day's car fare
—less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty great denominations. They have surveyed their whole task; no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men and women who love America—to you—this week, asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be. The chart printed here is intended merely as a suggestion; it represents a scale of giving of 6%—or less.

Six per cent of your earning power; 15/16ths of your life for your own family needs, and 1/16th for your fellow men—is that more than you ought to give?

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better is the world going to be because you passed through?
